

Kid Currents Writing Competition Waiver and Release

I (We) as the legal guardian(s) to our child ("Child") hereby agree to the submissions and potential publication of my Child's essay, in digital and/or print format, in connection with a writing competition in a McClatchy Shared Services, LLC ("Publisher") publication. I (We) further agree to release and waive any claims against Publisher, its parent company and affiliated entities, employees, officers, directors, shareholders, agents, and its independent contractors, including any sponsors (if applicable), against any and all claims in connection with the potential publication of my Child's essay except where otherwise prohibited by law.

By agreeing to the potential publication of my Child's essay, I (We) agree to waive any claim against Publisher due to any public commentary or feedback on social media or otherwise in connection with my (our) Child's essay.

Publicity

Except where prohibited by law, by agreeing to the potential publication of my (our) Child's essay, I (We) agree to allow Publisher to use my (our) and my (our) Child's name, photographs, likeness, statements, biographical information, voice, and city and state address for promotional or advertising purposes in connection with this essay competition on a worldwide basis, and in all forms of media, now or hereafter known, in perpetuity, without review, permission or further compensation.

I agree that I have read, understood, and will abide by the terms herein.